

“All our communities are constantly changing. Various economic and social forces are always at work. Sometime the change is obvious; sometimes it is subtle or slow. But it is always happening. One powerful way that people can positively influence this change, for tomorrow and for generations to come, is to join in the cooperative work called community planning.”

What Over the next six months, Canton residents and businesses are invited to participate in a community planning process that will define the future of an area of the township.

Who Working with the Canton Township Supervisors, the Planning Commission, and the Redevelopment Authority of Washington County, consultant assistance will help craft the master redevelopment plan. The consultant team will be lead by Mullin and Lonergan Associates. This team has worked together before, knows the Washington County area, and will undertake a community planning process that will encourage local residents and businesses to define the future of their neighborhood.

How From July through December, 2006, area residents, businesses, and other key stakeholders will have the opportunity to participate in many different ways:

- Study kick-off at the July 13, 2006 Township Supervisors’ meeting.
- Two public meetings to be held in September and December.
- Two design workshops to be convened in September and November.
- Monthly meetings of the Community Action Group and Business Action Group.
- On-going updates via three newsletters or by accessing the web site at www.yourcanton.com.

Why Come and join your neighbors in planning for the future.
